Deliverable 2

Quality - The AI generated good-quality images and social media captions for CampusConnect. Most of the outputs matched the internship and career guidance theme. However, I changed a few words in the captions to make them more suitable for students and to match the brand's friendly and professional tone. The AI images were attractive and needed only minor improvements.

Time Saved - Using AI saved a lot of time. Instead of creating images and writing captions from scratch, I generated multiple ideas within minutes. This allowed me to complete the assignment much faster and spend more time improving the final content rather than starting from zero.

Creative Control - AI provided useful suggestions, but I still had control over the final result. I selected the best outputs, changed the wording where needed, and chose images that matched the brand identity. Human editing was important to ensure the content looked consistent and relevant.

When Would You Use AI - I would use AI when creating social media posts, brainstorming ideas, generating marketing captions, and designing visual concepts quickly. However, I would always review and edit the AI-generated content before publishing to make sure it is accurate, engaging, and aligned with the brand's goals.
